Yes, the regeneration scheme has some positives. They'll be creating new jobs, a children's centre, a disabled centre, apparently. But it also has some negatives; it's taking away from the actual real people that lived in this community, built this community. I think it's a two-fold thing. It is social cleansing, but it's also like a status thing. We no longer want you working class people in our area so you need to move.
